CONDITIONS OF SALE.

I. The highest bidder to be the buyer; and if any dispute arise between bidders, the lot so disputed shall be immediately put up again, provided the seller cannot decide the said dispute.

II. No person to advance less than 1*s.*; above Five Pounds 2*s.* 6*d.*, and so on in proportion.

III. The Purchasers to give in their names and places of abode, and to pay down 5*s.* in the Pound, if required, in part of payment of the Purchase-money; in default of which, the Lot or Lots purchased to be immediately put up again and re-sold.

IV. The Sale of any lot is not to be set aside on account of any error in the enumeration of the numbers stated, or errors of description.

V. The Lots to be taken away at the Buyer's Expense, immediately after the Conclusion of the Sale; in default of which, Messrs. S. Leigh Sotheby & John Wilkinson will not hold themselves responsible if lost, stolen, damaged or otherwise destroyed, but they will be left at the sole risk of the Purchaser. If at the expiration of Two Days after the conclusion of the Sale, the Lots are not cleared or paid for, they will then be catalogued for immediate sale, and the expence, the same as if re-sold, will be added to the amount at which they were bought. Messrs. S. Leigh Sotheby & John Wilkinson will have the option of re-selling the Lots uncleared either by public or private sale, without any notice being given to the defaulter.

VI. Upon failure of complying with the above conditions, the money required or deposited in part of payment shall be forfeited; and if any loss is sustained in the re-selling of such lots as are not cleared or paid for, all charges on such re-sale shall be made good by the defaulter at this sale.

Gentlemen who cannot attend the Sale, may have their Commissions faithfully executed by their humble Servants,

FOLIO.

394 Proclamation of Queen Elizabeth, ordering that, in her Majesty's Mints no more shillings should be coined, but besides groats, halfgroats and pence, divers small pieces of silver money of sixpence, threepence, three-halfpence, and threefarthings, should be immediately coined; also forbidding all manner of foreign coins of gold or silver, except only the French Crown, and the Flemish or Burgundian Crown, to be current within the Realm, calling them into the mints; also cautioning her subjects against a foreign piece of gold, printed like an English Angell, being not worth 9*s.* 3*d.*

Dated the XV of Nov., the third year of her Reign.

A most rare and curious Broadside, printed in black letter, with woodcuts of the French and Flemish Crowns, the English and Foreign Angels on the margin; in the finest preservation.

Imprinted at London—by Richard Jugge and John Cawood (1561)

 The coin of threefarthings is alluded to by Shakspeare, in his historical play of King John. He there introduces the bastard Faulconbridge thus ridiculing the meagre countenance of his father's legitimate son, first by comparing it to a half-faced groat,

> Because he hath a half-face, like my father,
> With that half-face would he have all my land:
> A half-faced groat five hundred pound a year.

And afterwards more contemptuously exclaims, that if he had the land, together with his brother's shape,

> My face so thin.
> That in mine ear I durst not stick a rose,
> Lest men should say, look, where thre farthings goes.

Again, in the Scornful Lady, by Beaumont and Fletcher, is a passage which not only shews the difference between the penny and the threefarthings piece, but also informs us of a knavish trick then commonly practised to impose the lesser of these coins upon heedless people for the other; and likewise the punishment for that crime. Speaking of Morecraft the Usurer, the younger Lovelass says,

> He had a bastard, his own toward issue,
> Whip'd and then crop'd, for washing out the roses
> In three farthings, to make them pence.
